

Your currently borrowed board games will be stored so that lost or unreturned games can be found. This information will also be used so that other users can keep track of the currently available board games. Username and password will be stored and used, only for the purpose of logging into an account. You can stop your data from being used by retracting your ToS consent, retracting your ToS consent entails losing your account.